The weather was 12noon & the dining room was 80% empty,,this cafeteria seems to be on appliances because consumers have tons of restaurant options these days,,furthermore,after waiting in line to serve us portions of food we carried our own trays and sat... downstairs to relax and eat our meal,,suddenly a woman almost frantically runs to our table saying that our ??? there is no basic greeting,,yeering smile,,cold body language,,i felt very uncomfortable/upset / intertwined,,she started babbling about hot sauce,, and then hovering over us, including her neurotic types of constant looks = that she almost stares at us,, He kept asking us if we were okay every 4 to 5 minutes,, even when we had a mouthful of food, if we talked or responded to it... we could choke on food,,...th floor of people running away from customers,,this was a horrible experience,,as any other luby's customer had a similar experience ? It seems that they really bus boys/females masquarding as servers put monkeys on the backs of consumers to subsidize their $2.65 hourly pay,, it's 100% self-service cafeteria!that will ever need a server. ????. in fact, most people traditionally visit cafeterias so they won't have to tip. And even enjoy the experience of self-service.....? We won a comeback because of these people from the floor,,an absolute nightmare experience,,...as we do luby's ownershipMore I don't know why this place isn't more packed on Saturday morning when they offer a buffet breakfast. I met with a few friends from our neighborhood, we took a big table on our backs. Everyone got something different, but I enjoyed scrambled eggs... eggs with a mixture of sautéed onions, peppers and mushrooms, foreign sausages, hash browns and some oatmeal. Oatmeal was not too sweet, but cinnamon was already added, I prefer mine only plain so I can add what I like. They offer several other prepared egg dishes, other scrambles including Megas and also fried eggs-both eggs-both simple and a little more done. Bacon, sausage links and patties, as well as sliced hams, if you prefer. You can also order an omelet with almost everything in it. They have freshly made waffles and French toast. All for $7.99. The drink is extra so I ended up paying about $11, but it was much better than a place like Denny's and that's all you can eat if you're a hungry guy. Although still Luby is a cafeteria style servers that bring an omelet to your table also check for coffee filling or if you need something else. All the food was hot! Just remember breakfast is only on Saturday and SundayMore SundayMore
