Greek Theatre Seating Chart Numbers Line Greek Theater Detailed Seating Chart Numbers Seats Greek Theatre Policy Seating Chart Numbers Chart Line Chart Greek Interactive Theater includes the line numbers for each section (just hover over the section). Note, sections 'A' begin with row A and end in row T. Sections 'B' begin with row A and end in row W. Sections 'C' begin with row A and end in row W, although there is a small transition between rows J and K. However, the cards will often have a seat printed on the cards like GA2, or GA3 has no seats allocated. The Greek theatre detailed seat numbers and the Greek theatre seating chart detailed in the seating chart above showing the seat numbers for each section. The simple rule of thumb is that the lower the seat number, the closer it will always be to center stage. For example, seat number 2 in the right part B will be in transit towards the center of the stage. Note that the seat numbers in the side sections go in even numbers and odd numbers, so the seat next to seat 2 is seat 4. Please note that most lines of the Greek Theatre have 20 to 25 seats each. Sellers to the Greek Theatre's ticket policy must disclose all information on their tickets. For example, blocked display seats at the Greek Theater will be listed for buyer to consider (or review) before purchasing. These comments include information about whether the seat view of the Greek theatre is a limited view, a side view, a blocked view or anything else relevant questions about sitting in the Greek theatre? 2700 N.
