AL, DE, FL, GA, HI, IL, IN, MD, MA, MI, MN, NH, NJ, NY, NC, PA, SC, VA Available States Review by Heather Petty heather.petty@findercrew.com Universal offers a standard set of homeowners products in coastal markets where many other companies refuse to insure. And while having the ability to apply for policies and make claims online can appeal to you, Universal's limited availability and payment methods can be a deal breaker. If you are not sold on its features, compare other home insurers available in your area to find a better fit. Universal offers the following home insurance coverage to protect against damage or loss due to fire, lightning, vandalism, stormy weather and third party liability. Housing. Covers the structure of your home, such as ceilings, floors, roofs and walls. It also covers items that are permanently attached to your home, like windows and doors. Loss of use. If your home becomes uninhabitable due to damage, this coverage provides compensation for any food and lodging costs that are in addition to your typical cost of living. Medical services. Covers any medical expenses for anyone injured your property, no matter who is Error. Other structures. Protects other structures on your property, like sheds, fences and mailboxes. Personal responsibility. If your negligence causes damage to a guest or damages their property, this covers compensation for them. Personal property. Provides compensation for damaged or lost personal property anywhere in the world if it belongs to your home. High-value possessions are not covered and should be planned separately as part of a rider on your policy. What home insurance discounts can I get? Not all of the discounts listed below are available in each state, but if you think you are qualified, ask your agent. Anti theft. If you have installed an anti-theft system for your home, you can save with this discount. Bundling. Bundle your home and auto policies to get a discount. Claims free. If you haven't made an insurance claim in the last few years, you're eligible for that discount. Loyalty. When celebrating your first anniversary as a Universal customer, request this discount. New roof. If your tag is new or only a few years old, you can qualify for this discount. Previous insurance. If you have maintained previous coverage on the property, you are entitled to a discount. Safe home. Get this discount if you have extra protection systems, like fire alarms, in your home. Senior resident. If one or more members of your household are over the age of 65, you are entitled to a discount. Sprinkler system. Get an extra discount if your fire system also has sprinklers. Windy protective devices. If you have wind mitigation features installed in your home, you are eligible for this discount. Pros and cons of Universal Home Insurance Pros Buy your policy online. Contact a local agent or customer service representative to review the process, or use the Get a Quote button to purchase a policy online. Reinsurance program. Universal has over 50 partners in place to help fund excessive losses in the event of a catastrophic event, such as a hurricane. Assures where others won't. Homes in Florida and other coastal areas where many businesses refuse to insure properties can still get protection. Cons Limited availability. Universal policies are only available in 18 states. Restricted payment methods. You can't use a debit or credit card to pay your monthly premiums. Universal accepts only ACH transfer or a check or mail. Universal's customer ratings are often lower than other companies. Its JD Power rating for 2019 comes in at just two out of five stars. But the Better Business Bureau gives it an A+ rating for customer interaction. Kunderos also outweighs complaints for this company on many review sites.
