DGP Academy offers short video lessons (approximately 1-4 minutes each) with each day of daily grammar practice. Don Burnett, creator of the DGP, walks you through every sentence, explaining all of the concepts and answering questions that students and teachers often ask. It's like being an expert as your personal trainer! Access to each DGP Academy video collection includes more than 150 videos and never ends. Please note that there are videos streams, not downloads, so you can show them in live online class, but students cannot post them on their online platform to watch later. With DGP Academy, you'll still need a copy of the teacher guide, but at checkout you get 40% from your teacher Code can use Teacher40 With the purchase of the same DGP Academy collection. Student Workbook Volume Discount: If you buy a 6-10 workbook, you'll receive $2.00 from each workbook; 11-19 copies are $4.00 from each. You can request another discount for a volume of 20 or more by contacting rod at rburnette@dgppublishing.com or 706-745-1005. Download a student workbook sample overhead CD: This CD contains a PDF with practice for each day of daily grammar practice. Because the CD does not include the answer key, it does not replace the teacher guide. Also, you can not print from the CD. CD is an optional accessory that provides a convenient way to project each day's work if your students aren't using a workbook. This series has a very simple premise: grammar should not be difficult - it can be learned (and maintained) through daily exercises that are highly effective but very unknown. Teachers will need to spend a few moments familiarizing themselves with the approach, but once that's understood, daily practice shouldn't take more than a few minutes. The course is conducted in 30 5-day week, for a total of 150 days of grammar practice. Students work with the same sentence for a period of one week. Consumables (no page is allowed to reproduce) the student workbook contains two sections. The first section briefly teaches and explains all of the grammar rules as they will be used on each day of the week. The second section includes daily exercises – one week per page (these exercises are really quick!) for example, for the first section in Grade 3: Monday is always noun, pronoun, adjective, preview, combination, and interjection; Tuesday is always the simple and complete theme, simple and complete prediction/prediction. Wednesday always has clauses, sentence types, and sentences intended; Thursday always has capitalization, apostrophe, underlining/italicizing, quotation points and commas; And Friday is always writing your sentences using specific grammar rules provided for that week. In grade 11: Monday is parts of the speech; Tuesday's sentence is parts and phrases; Wednesday is the clause and sentence type; Thursday is punctuation and capitalization; And Friday is drawing. Teacher guide includes: background on DGP Method; Instructions about how to best apply this method; reproducible help page and marking guide; Answer page; reproducible quiz templates, pretests and check sheets; and scope and sequence of a program. Easy to use in both home and classroom settings (this is the secular version). ~ How does Zach (Publisher Details) Daily Grammar Practice Work? The key Daily grammar practice is its organization. Most methods are organized by concept - a lesson on nouns, a lesson on verbs. Daily grammar practice pulls all concepts together so students always see the bigger picture. Daily grammar practice is also daily. Students of other daily grammar programmes need to apply grammar skills by correcting errors in sentences. However, students cannot implement what they don't understand. Daily grammar practice helps students understand the basics of grammar and mechanics so that they can get the most of the lessons in use and writing. Daily grammar practice works like a daily grammar vitamin. It gives one sentence per week to work with students. Every day, students have a different job to complete with the sentencing of the week. At the beginning of each class, you go on the assignment of the day. Students fix any errors they make and ask them any questions. You explain any new concepts that the sentence presents. The whole process takes a few minutes, and you're ready to proceed with the class. Students learn through daily repetition and discovery. You never have the ability to practice any other grammar. You might be wondering how students can possibly learn everything they need to learn about grammar and mechanics with only one sentence per week. Here's why: 1. Less is more. They really take these sentences apart and understand every aspect of them. 2. Concepts are broken down into smaller parts, but the program is organized in a way that allows students to see how all parts fit together. Concepts are re-worked on a daily basis so that they are not forgotten. The sentences they are dealing with are not just random sentences. They are deliberately loaded with specific concepts at specific times. They start simple and become increasingly difficult. Concepts that students should master at their grade level appear in early sentences and often appear. More difficult concepts appear later. These content focuses on grammar practice and does not give any grammar instructions. Teaching training.
