Summer, with its warm days and endless sunshine, seems to be just a jump and a jump away. And while we love to have an excuse to pull out the bug-eyed sunglasses, it doesn't mean that anyone loves the actual thing. Especially with growing health concerns, including Zika, Mosquito Joe knows how important it is to keep the bloodsucking insects away. Why not make the long summer days by the pool or play in the backyard fun again without worrying about waking up the next day covered in bites? Providing the neighborhood with outdoor pest control, the company offers both residential and commercial services to finally get rid of the annoying mosquitoes, ticks or fleas. It works with the help of a variety of repellants, sprays, misting and completely natural systems that are applied regularly (approximately every three weeks). The company was originally founded in 2010 and began franchising in 2014. With its ability to keep you and your skin fresh all season, it's no wonder Mosquito Joe earned its way to Entrepreneurs' list of franchises. And I can't just stab Indians for a quick hello, but do you know what makes you feel like you're there with her? Movies that capture the incredibly complex but unconditionally loving bond between mother and child. So I rounded up the best Mother's Day movies to watch when you want to reminisce about all those sweet memories (and sassy ones too, if we count these teens). They will definitely make you pick up the phone and call Mom. Or, if you're lucky enough to sit right next to her while you read this, watch these Mother's Day movies together and let the bond begin. Ad - Continue reading during 1 20th Century Women This indie film is so heartwarming and full of beautiful and insightful wisdom, you'll pause it every two seconds to write it all down (and to catch your breath from laughing). Set in late 1970s Santa Barbara, it's about a young boy being raised by a single mother, and indirectly, her free-spirited young friend (Greta Gerwig) and a wise-outward-her-year teenage girl next door (Elle Fanning). Mother's Day vibe: This is the really hard part, and then it gets better, and then it gets hard again. STREAM NOW 2 Parent trap Lindsey Lohan in her best, late 90s sartorial inspiration on print, summer camp, and cute parenting bond ... What else could you want in a movie? In case you've lived under a rock, The Parent Trap is about long lost twins meeting, swapping places, and scheming to make their parents fall back in love with each other. Turn this on to make the nostalgia flow. Mother's Day vibe: And I'm heading into my crazy mixed teens, and I'll be the only girl I know without a mother to contend with. It takes on an innovative structure, flashes between the past, present and future, exploring the identity of motherhood in the shadow of loss. Mother's Day vibe: There are people who think that children are made in a day. But it takes a long, very long time. STREAM NOW 4 Juno Unusual family dynamics, perhaps, but oh-so full of love and support, Juno spotlights all sorts of mother's characters and relationships. And it's fun to with an epic soundtrack. If you haven't seen it yet, it's about an unplanned teenage pregnancy. Mother's Day vibe: Well, dear, doctors are sadists who like to play God and watch less people scream... Can we get my kid to knock the spinal tap already? STREAM NOW 5 The Secret Life of Bees In the first scene, we learn that Lily (Dakota Fanning) tragically lost her birth mother, but as the film unfolds, she gets three more when she runs off to stay with the janitor Rosaleen. It is full of unconventional love and maternal figures, history lessons and hope. Mother's Day vibe: You have to find a mother inside yourself. We all do. STREAM NOW 6 Mermaids' 90s Winona is a treat to watch on screen, especially with Cher and Christina Ricci. Mermaids is about a kooky but loving mother who loves to jump from city to city, jerking the kids every time. There is a great lesson in striving for individuality and growth over perfection, as well as an example of how much our childhood can shape us. Mother's Day vibe: Don't do anything I wouldn't do... Or don't do anything I wanted. STREAM NOW 7 Grey Gardens Quirky, beautifully shot, infinitely fascinating, and for some, possibly a cautionary tale/alternative reality where you never left your mother's side and became a little too friendly with neighborhood raccoons. Watch this documentary about Jackie Onasi's relatives and you'll see what we mean. Mother's Day vibe: There are some nice people in the world, you know. I'm just not related to any of them. STREAM NOW 8 All the Boys I've Loved Before All the Boys I've Loved Before is a tender and fun coming-of-age film that gives us an oft-underrepresented family structure. Although it's about a fourteen-year-old girl's love life, it also shows siblings who lost their mother earlier in life and are raised by a single father — Mother's Day should celebrate all mother figures, no matter what they look like. Mother's Day vibe: I'll do my homework... And I think of my family, and I forget that there was a time when it wasn't just my father and my sisters. And it only happens a quarter of a second, but... I feel very guilty about it. I've never told anyone before. STREAM NOW 9 Lady Bird This is the best Mother's Day movie of all Mother's Day movies. Marion McPherson is a hardworking nurse raising her two children in Sacramento. It follows her daughter, the self-monikered Lady Bird, as she navigates her final year. Their love for each is palpable, but it is also chaotic, often unkind, and quite difficult not to deal with. Mother's Day wisdom: I want you to be the very best version of yourself as you can be. STREAM NOW 10 The Kids Are Alright A look at how marriage develops over time, and with it, the whole family. The Kids Are Alright is a heartwarming watch. It follows lesbian mothers Nic and as they decide to meet the anonymous sperm donor for the first time in 18 years. It takes a realistic look at romantic, platonic and familial bonds, but with a sense of humor. It's also a lot about self-exploration and distance. Mother's Day vibe: It's hard enough to open your heart in this world. Don't make it harder. STREAM NOW 11 Moonlight Here's a real heart key. Although the core of the film is about a man's life story as he wrestles with his own identity as a young gay black man growing up in Miami, it's about much more than just romantic love. It's about the communities he finds in unexpected places and people, and the complicated relationship he shares with his mother. Mother's Day vibe: You don't have to love me, but you'll know I love you. STREAM NOW 12 Stepmom Ok, actually maybe this is the best Mother's Day movie of all Mother's Day movies. We'll leave it in a tie for now. Fresh out of a divorce (well a few years, but it feels fresh for us, okay?!), Jackie's (Susan Sarandon) child meeting her father's serious boyfriend, Kelly (Julia Roberts). Tensions are high and only rise when tragedy strikes. Are you ready for the waterworks? Take a box of tissues, because the floodgates. Will. Open. Mother's Day wisdom: No one loves you like I do. No one will ever do that. STREAM NOW 13 The Big Sick Although technically the Big Sick revolves around Kumal Nanjiani and Emily Gordon's relationship, it's also about the strong bond between an adult boy and her parents. It's semi autobiographical, as it follows a Pakistani cartoon that falls in love with a girl his family doesn't like. A heartbreaking fracture ensues, but when she is hospitalized and in a coma, he supports her daily and gets to know her family, unknown to her. Mother's Day wisdom: Just go and tell mom I want her. STREAM NOW 14 Lion Lion is about a young man's quest to find his birth mother. It struggles with the complexity of international, multi-race adoption, familial ties, and the formation and understanding of one's own identity in relation to their past and lineage. It is also a beautifully designed and entertaining story to watch unfold. Mother's Day wisdom: Do you have a good idea what it's like? How every day does my mother scream my name? STREAM NOW 15 Little Miss Sunshine This charming family dramedy is the perfect thing to put on when you spend Mother's Day with the whole bunch (or just when you're alone). The cast of characters who are the Hoover family jump into their VW van and trek from New Mexico to California to support the little (Abigail Breslin) in the Little Miss Sunshine pageant. Mother's Day wisdom: A real loser is someone who is so afraid not to win, they don't even try. STREAM NOW 16 Almost Famous You can always rely on Frances McDormand to deliver a compelling performance, and even if she is in no way character in Almost Famous, she definitely steals every scene she is in as 15-year-old William's mother. Watch it for the style of inspo (Penny Lane, I'll still have your fur), coming-of-age adventure, and fun soundtrack. Mother's Day wisdom: If you break his spirit, hurt him in some way, keep him from his chosen profession, which is law - something you might not value, but I do - you will meet the voice on the other end of this phone, and it will not be pretty. STREAM NOW 17 Beloved This adaptation of Toni Morrison's groundbreaking novel Beloved is a Must-See. It's as much about Sethe's relationship with motherhood and her children as about America's violent history of slavery and modern manifestations and remains. Mother's Day wisdom: I have a tree on my back and a haint in my house, and nothing in between, but the daughter I hold in my arms. STREAM NOW 19 August: Osage County There are plenty of dinner table family swept to remind you of your own this Mother's Day. If you have a penchant for dark humor, you'll love August: Osage County, which is about adult siblings who have grown apart being brought back together in the wake of a family tragedy. The star-studded cast includes Meryl Streep, Julia Roberts, Abigail Breslin, Benedict Cumberbatch and Ewan McGregor. Mother's Day wisdom: Listen to me! Die after me, okay. I don't care what else you do, where you go, because I ruined your life, but just survive, please. STREAM NOW 19 Mama Mia! Meryl! Singing in Mama Mia! What could be better? Sing along, laugh together, cry together... It's going to be great. The funny musical film is about Sophie as she tries to figure out who her birth father is by inviting all three potential candidates to her wedding without telling her mother. Mother's Day wisdom: Someone up there has brought it in for me. I bet it's my mother. STREAM NOW 20 We need to talk about Kevin and to end on a bright note ... So you and your mother appreciate a little scaremongering? Lynne Ramsay's masterful interpretation of Lionel Shriver's We Need to Talk About Kevin will build the tension in space, for sure. This drama/horror/thriller struggles with the notion of motherhood and maternal instinct in such fresh and captivating (albeit dark) ways. Motherhood: Motherhood, I condensed in the park. It's a foreign country. STREAM NOW This content is created and maintained by a third party and imported into this page to help users provide their email addresses.
