Grinder is a craft station device for Borderlands: A Pre-sequel that consumes three weapons or items fed to it and produces a new, randomly selected item as a result. There's one mill available in the Borderlands base game: a pre-sequel at the Janey Springs seminar at Concordia that will be used after the grinders mission is ready. Another mill will be made available on the Claptastic Voyage, which is found next SYS ADMIN Nexus. Items fed into the mill must conform to the recipe, which determines the type and guality of the output. The recipe defines the combination of element types and rarities that are taken as input and what rarity and output can be. Items of common and uncommon rarity in the framework of a mission and which have a pre-determined set of components in any other way shall not be justified. Examples include: Springs Oz Kit, Fervid Provacateur found concordia bank during mission, Systems clogged and cryo weapons in the chest were opened by Dr. Spara during it did Rocket Surgery. Unique mission rewards are considered standard blue items though, including those found in chests of drawers. The production item proficiency requirements for input goods, rounded down. For example: Entering one level 50 item, one level 49 item, and one level 45 item leads to a level 47 item. Certain items can only be made through the mill [required by citation]. Moonstone-supported grinds ensure optimal rarity (for example: moonstone-grinding three blue weapons will secure a purple weapon in return), and can also cause a Luneshine bonus. However, only certain recipes allow Moonstone to grind. Recipes Please note: The following list may be incomplete.
