Ghillie Suit Information and ResourcesA ghillie suit is a type of camouflage clothing designed to break down human contours and help the wearer blend into the wild. Made from natural jute ropes, burlap or synthetic threads, it is made in a way that resembles heavy leaves. Ghillie Suits are usually constructed using an inner shell, net and jute. Jute is attached to a volleyball earpiece or directly on military BDUs or jumpsuits. Who's wearing a Ghillie Suit? Paintballers or airsoft players who want to be snipers wear these masked jackets and pants to help them mix with their surroundings. Ghillie's suit offers an additional hiding advantage over players with regular camo clothes. Paintball and airsoft ghillie costumes are very popular among those who play these imitation sports. They have recently become very popular as camouflage costumes for children on Halloween.The government and local law enforcement have been increasingly using advanced 3d camo costumes to help with covert surveillance. The sniper costume provides an excellent cover for monitoring, collecting evidence and taking pictures. Hunters use them to help them get closer to their prey during hunting or they use a cap with a natural looking 3D model to sit and wait for their prey to move into them. And, of course, there are military ghillie suits that the United States and other countries around the world are using for their tactical operations. The USMC, Marines, Army and Special Operations all work in ghillie costumes. What ghillie costumes are there? There are many different types of ghillie costumes. Most of them can be divided into 2 categories, a combination of jacket and trousers ghillie suit or one piece ghillie poncho type. We usually recommend a combination of jacket and trousers, because it is more mobile when worn 100% of the time. For airsoft and paintball player, this is their main concern. The main advantage of a poncho-type suit is that it can be quickly installed. In conditions where you may need to move fast or walk away and do not require adding camouflage, you can move with a ghillie poncho stacked away and quickly put it once to the destination. The sniper ghillie suit is a jacket and trouser ghillie suit, which does not have thread material on the front. Ghillie Costumes come in 4 basic color patterns, woods, moss, desert and snow. The forest model is the most popular model we sell. Desert is second with mossy coming in third. Models differ according to the manufacturer, so you need to look carefully at the photos, if you compare forest suit made Arcturus vs. vs Ghilliesuits. The Jackal Jackal suits are very different from standard ones. What about Ghillie Suit Accessories? The leading ghillie suit accessories are the rifle wrap. If you are going to buy a ghillie suit, you must also consider dismeasion your airsoft or paintball gun. Your hunting rifle is probably the only piece of equipment that protrudes from your ghillied up contour. You need to soften the contour of the weapon with the wrapping of the rifle. If you are wearing a backpack, you may want to consider the ghillie packaging cap or using a poncho. Again, you need to make sure that your whole body 3D contour has been broken. Being able to stalk the enemy and take them down from a distance appeals to many players, but before you practice your kill shots, you need to know a few things about the most important part of sniping-staying out of sight. It is not an effective ghillie use, but it still looks cool, and it is important ... Right? Sniping involves a lot of stealth and creativity, so if you want to learn how to mix with your surroundings to enhance the element of surprise... read on. We're going to get into some tips that will help you effectively use a ghillie suit, but first, let's talk a little bit about ghillie costumes. We will also give you some recommendations on the best ghillie costume pieces. Dress success: Ghillie Suit Basics Is you are familiar with the fluffy, contour-blackened suit that is ghillie costume. The essence of these costumes is to disguise inclined snipers, break down the shape of their easily recognizable contour and help them disappear into the landscape. Effective ghillie costumes will match the colors and textures in the environment in which you play, think greens, gray, brown and tans. In snowy conditions, you may even want to wear a white ghillie suit. Mark Wahlberg Rockin, the white ghillie in the shooter. In urban environments like mil-sim, even things like newspapers, plastic bags and other garbage can be redistributed into your disguise. Trash ghillie = unparalleled disguise Your goal is a diverse, naturally looking bunch of materials that don't look awful from the place outside. Tips on how to mix with ghillie suit super ghillie costume in the world will not help you stay hidden if you don't know how to mix. If you want to hunt the opposing team, you will have to play wisely. Now that you know how the ghillie costume works, let's talk about some tips that will help you stay out of sight. Align your environment In many situations there are quite different colors, such as dark brown, gray and tan. Even if your color palette is not 100% matched with the field, you will still be able to as long as you pay attention to what's around you. If they don't see you, they can't shoot you. Probably. Search for similar colors and textures when choosing a location. Naturally, you can make a green ghillie suit on a rock ridge that looks natural, but it's much less work to blend into a high grass field. Add leaves, branches, herbs and other materials to your hideout to continue mixing. Weather your ghillie suit with dust, light shredding or fraying, painting, or other distressing techniques to take a new ghillie costume shine from your kit. Camouflage in your gear Imagine that you are scanning your surroundings, looking for enemies when you notice what appears to be a pristine, black airsoft weapon laying on the ground, or a backpack leaning against the bush. You'd be instantly suspicious, wouldn't you? Cover clap your *clap*gun*clap* well guess what the enemy team is looking for things that stick, and your intact equipment is a dead giveaway. So, follow the time to hide your tools. Get out of the paint and burlap to cover your packaging, barrel and other things that don't cover your suit. Changing your shape people is an amazing pattern of recognition. How often do you see faces or human forms in things that are not human at all? Our brains are constantly looking for human-shaped things and filling out details, so this means that it needs to look as little human as possible. Padding shoulders and neck is one good way to break down your shape and make yourself less like a prone sniper. Personal-shaped shrubs are rare, so this ghillie does not quite do the job. You also want to make sure that your face is well covered, because enemies will be much easier to detect. Sniper veils are one way to cover your face and head because they can drape around your head and scope to help disguise you. Covering your face and head is also a good idea, so that the sun's rays do not shine on any of your gears, such as glasses, masks, headgear, etc. Move slowly and thoughtfully If you run from one place to another, we will attract attention. Instead, the practice moves slowly and deliberately, and only moves when needed. The less you can move, the less likely you are to notice. Slowly and steadily does it. Mind Your Surroundings Bushes can easily confuse your suit or noise as you move. Dead leaves will be bustle and crisp. Gravel will rattle and give you away. Part of the inconspicuous sighting of your environment, and using them to your advantage. Don't let aliens avoid twigs. Stay away from things that make noise. Use wind, shadows and ambient noise to cover your movements, and the time when your movements match the environment so as not to be able to. This also means that you should avoid direct sunlight. Pack Light (but Bring Water) Resurfacing Around The costume means that you can not perform much. It is difficult to quietly move when loaded down, but it can also be difficult to disguise a giant backpack. Take only what you need to get through the match, but do not forget to pack water. It can get quite warm inside a ghillie suit, and on hot days, you will be pleased to have water with you. Use distractions for your Advantage Teams is perfect for distracting enemy players, and can give you cover to take down opposing players while they're busy trying to shoot your teammates. Other distractions, such as vehicles, distant summonses and animals, can also be useful if they also do not distract you. yes, these guys? All acceptable victims until the sniper gets his shots. If you need a distraction, make one. Throwing pebbles, small sticks and other garbage can be used to divert attention away from you, giving you the opportunity to take pictures, hide or escape. Trust Your Gut For some changes in the environment, silent sounds, or weak movements can be a sign that someone has discovered you and closes you down. Listen to your senses and pay attention to what is happening around you. Maybe you can just rotate the tables. Best Ghillie Costumes Now, when we have you all ready to become a disguised master, let's chat about some of the opportunities out there to get you started. These are some of what we think are the best ghillie costumes on the market, but don't forget, it's just the base. You need to get creative to really make an effective costume. There is no effective color scheme. Arcturus Ghost Ghillie In fact, this is one of our favorite ghillie costumes on our list. He doesn't just go that cool Call of Duty looks like he's fat. Arcturus ghost Ghillie Arcturus Ghost Ghillie uses a 6-pound yarn 3-D, 7-color blend to create its ultra-dense, pattern-disturbing shape. This means that he is almost ready to go straight out of the box, but you have plenty of space to add his changes and really make it shine. Arcturus Ghost Ghillie One of our favorite features is that this suit is mold resistant, which is great, because mold can be a problem with thicker ghillies. All threads and seams are double stitched to help you get the whole set with this package: zip-up ghillie jacket, pants, headgear, and color-matched rifle wrap. Either a wooded camo, or a dried grass color is a great choice, depending on where you play most often. Arcturus Ghost Ghillie Desert Arcturus builds its costumes on the base of the BDU eye, which helps to increase the breathing of the costume and makes it easier to customize. One drawback to this suit is weight, though. It's just good for airsofters, but I know that your ability to move will be hindered a little by this wookie-looking suit. 90 amazon prices Writing Time Vivo 4-Piece Camo Woodland Ghillie Set If Working on a tight budget, or you want to really customize your ghillie suit, Vivo 4-Piece Camo Woodland Ghillie Set is a great choice. It's not as dense as some others on our list, but it's a little lighter, weighing only 4 pounds, and is built on the base of the grid. This costume is a great launched suit if you are looking to save a little, because it is still quite convincingly disguised. Vivo 4-Piece Camo Woodland Ghillie Set You don't get as much material as say, arcturus kit above, but that means this suit is cooler, easier to move, and much easier to customize. Before playing, twist the yarn or tie on some leaves, and you will be in excellent shape. This set includes a headgear, a button jacket, elastic and pulling trousers and an appropriate pistol wrap, all of which are suitable for comfortable transport in the included towed bag. It's completely polyester, so it will throw away water quite easily (well avoiding mold and heavy, soggy costumes). Quality is not equivalent to more expensive suits, but... you get what you pay, and in this case it's still pretty decent. 59 Amazon prices exactly at the time writing Jumpeak Ghillie Suit What sets this suit without vivo one is that it comes to wider color schemes, so you get even more flexibility when it comes to creating the best costume. Jumpeak Ghillie Suit The Jumpeak Ghillie Suit is a four-piece set consisting of a snap-together top, elastic trousers, a pistol cap and a concealed hood, as well as a pull bag to stuff it all. You can find these costumes of all polyester in snow, desert and wooded color schemes so that you can have one for each match, no matter what the weather is. 44 amazon prices exactly at the time writing Red Rock Outdoor Gear Ghillie Suit This is one of the most popular ghillie costumes for airsofters because it's much for the price. Red Rock Outdoor Gear Ghillie Suit Desert Red Rock Outdoor Gear ghillie suit is dense, 100% polyester, and comes from four color schemes: Woods, Desert, Snow, and ACU. This kit includes a pull-out storage bag, top, hood, jacket, trousers and rifle wrap. The trousers are pretty neat as they feature snaps at the ankle, which makes it easier to get these on and off over shoes. All that makes gear easier is winning in our book! Red Rock Outdoor Gear Ghillie Suit Woodland Some things we didn't like was that the rifle wrap barely covered a full-size airsoft pistol, and doesn't offer much room to replace it. You better make your own and miss this one. We also disliked the fact that this costume arrives in a tangled mess, which means that you need to spend some time detangling the rat's nest to work to customize it. We also we suspect that the longevity of this suit can be questionable, but for the price it is not very bad. 45 amazon prices writing time wrapping it all up Do you need a ghillie suit to be an airsoft sniper? No, does it help? Heck yes. There are many options that will help you hide yourself and avoid detection, but a well-modified ghillie suit is probably one of the easiest and best ways.
