And congratulations, you have us, too. By Lauren Donald | On September 20, 2019, I always get another size when I order as I'm only 5'4", but my chest is 36F, so nothing ever fits there. So I ordered an XL when size said that L would be fine (but I've been told this many times before, and they lied :) It's def too big, I should have had an L and it would be good. I live in the Middle East, so the post office is not exactly .... work, so return / exchange is not an option for me. My advice is to follow the size chart. It's really true size! BUT after saying that I was really surprised by the quality of the material! It is actually decently made and the material is NICE. I did actually appropriate this costume to create a Mad Lobbing costume like the one I wanted up here was discontinued before I could order it. Was this review helpful to you? You?
