Walhalla high school staff

Mr. Steve Garrett is the director of WHS. Steve Garrett is a graduate of Pendleton High School, Erskine College and Clemson University. He began his career as a mathematics teacher and coach at Emerald High School and stayed at EHS for 12 years. Mr. Garrett has been a high school administrator for the last 12 years. I am proud to be Razorback, and it is an honor to be part of an organization with such a rich background that serves Walhalla students and society. My wife of 21 years, Tracy, and I look forward to being in this community this year. We have two children attending Walhalla High School, Kayla and Houston, as well as the spoiled Weimaraner and Black Labrador. Parent tip Student results percentage University Prep Low income and underserved minority students all other students at school ENVIRONMENTAL Quality Principal Teachers Activities Parent Safety June 26, 2013 In my opinion, this school is extremely wonderful! I have been to this school in recent years and I must say that my experience was one that will never be forgotten. Students are participating in learning activities that guarantee their success for the future. Faculty and staff are very enthusiastic and teaching styles and extra-course efforts are also useful. Also, students are above average! You can say that each student has two purposes every day: to learn and teach. Why teach, you might ask. The social skills, community service engagement and academic performance of the students here are exceptional for other high schools in the area where this school is located. Students work as a team to learn new things and go to their communities to implement what they have learned for the benefit of citizens. This, to me, is another way of teaching. So, please don't just think about this campus as another normal school, but you can find another place to meet your knowledge and service. It's like a charity, if you like. Although this school has some mistakes, All I do, I believe you will see that your experience is like my unforgettable! Sent by a student 27 August 2008 This school is absolutely wonderful and the teachers are great and the principal is great. Sent by a student on November 9, 2005, the attitude of this administration is very similar to Walhalla Middle School just across the street. Some children are chosen, ridiculed and treated differently from others. Even teachers seem to enjoy desring and mocking students. The manager is so grumpy and snobby. He has his favorite teachers and students, and he may care less about others. He thinks he is still a coach and spends more time trying to run athletics than athletics and academics make him a school performing in schools. Both fell during his time as manager. He was a coach not good and he is definitely not a manager good. February 27, 2005 was the best school around WHS, when I was a student in 1995-1999 sent by a parent. John Hostetler was the manager and ran a tight ship. We never had a violent problem. Walhalla High Became one of the top 10 New American schools in the country. Excellent programs for students at all levels. Teachers didn't make fun of students, and what they did was the only critique maker; If he had better business ability, they told you and each of the students had high expectations. I loved my time at Walhalla High. I have been influenced by great teachers and now, as an educator myself, I can see that WHS is definitely product cream! Sent by a former student 4 May 2004 The first review is harsh and off-base. The school is one of the best in the country and has a great record. I can't speak for the current administration, but I can't see it being very different from it was in the '90s. The manager was one of the best around before he retired. I've never heard teachers make fun of students and sk0 them on the floor. If that was their character in the first place, I don't think they'd be teachers. I have some of the best moments at Walhalla High. It's a small-town school, but after graduation, it sends a lot of its students to 2- and 4-year-old institutes. Sent by a former student on March 9, 2004, I was seriously thinking about this school when I went to high school. Son, I'm so happy I didn't do what the old students told me. The two main leaderships are not good at all. There are a lot of people out there who fall low sell scores of drop outputs. Teachers deserries a student instead of impregnng them because they are different and what they write is different, and they deserries a former English teacher who has worked there since 1997 or 1998 and is still working there. I, I'm really glad I didn't go to this school to shame the thesis people. What kind of fashion house do they run? Just help rich kids and take down poor and inderming children. The principal also has an important role to play so that the word advice chooses not to go to this school next year or something like Daniel. School data provided by data source: SC, Inc.
