All the Hopeful Lovers by William Nicholson - review | Books | The Guardian

In 1 Corinthians, Paul describes various spiritual gifts and ways we can demonstrate Godly living in the world. He touches on the gift of tongues, prophecy with understanding, and faith that could move mountains. Yet somehow, he passes all of these things for just one thing: Love. What is this for? Why are these the things that last forever?

The greatest power of our lives is contained in this verse. We just have the task of unfolding the purpose behind it in order to connect to it.

Faith is one of the first things we learn about as Christians. I remember about a year after getting tattooed experiencing deep regret, almost mourning a part of myself being lost. I was barely 18 years old and working through some missed opportunities of my own personal development. I did this patiently for months before I started to lose hope and I began weeping to God.

I truly believe you could take this from me! Ten years later, the tattoos are still there, but I gained the most valuable lesson from this experience. The purpose of faith is not to influence my own comfort. The purpose of faith is to lead us to know the heart of God and then trust His ways to guide us. It is practical exercise reminding us of our place on the vine.

We are the branches, and we can do nothing apart from the vine John Hebrews is a great definition of faith, but I believe Hebrews gives us the life application of it. Hope is the fuel that keeps faith alive in our quest to find love. The way that faith which is the seeking of the Lord, connects with hope, which is the expectation of finding Him, is through wisdom. If you find it, you will have a bright future, and your hopes will not be cut short.

Often in our spiritual development, we hit a place of complacency where we are good with what we have. It is a great thing to be grateful, but there is more for your life when you continually seek wisdom. At each level we should be graduating, moving, and growing, constantly adding to what we understand. This is what keeps hope alive. As we seek more, we learn more, and we store up confidence in who we are on All the Hopeful Lovers vine.

Paul makes it very clear in 1 Corinthians that the greatest of all spiritual gifts is love. Based on this, we All the Hopeful Lovers that love is the result that we see of our faith and our hope. Love is the goal. How wonderful is it to understand the goal! When you start a new game, the biggest hurdle is often obtaining an understanding more than physical limitations.

If you understand the goal, you can use what you have to get there. The purpose of All the Hopeful Lovers is evident in 1 John that it is the clearest picture of God that we have. Everyone who loves All the Hopeful Lovers been born of God and knows God. Whoever does not love does not know God, because God is love. First, it is revelation of identity. It tells us who God is and who we are in God. Second, it is the very power that allows us to do the work of Jesus and even greater works as Jesus described in John It is the engine that drives our spiritual lives.

If faith, hope, and love are the things that last forever, it becomes clear that these are the things we should pursue with our lives. Some may feel concerned at the thought of knowing what the All the Hopeful Lovers goal is, that perhaps there is All the Hopeful Lovers point to life if there is nothing left to discover.

But there is life in these things that will never run out! In the beginning, we are born with no other understanding besides faith. As babies, we naturally seek care and to be nurtured. We confidently look for someone to give us the care that we need. As we earn the badges of life, we become scarred by experiences that strip our faith and our hope away, and in All the Hopeful Lovers, we forget our natural instinct to love as we become consumed with All the Hopeful Lovers a new starting point.

Finding faith, hope, and love for ourselves does not mark the end of anything. It All the Hopeful Lovers mark the beginning for someone else. If you have ever been in a broken place, you know the power of someone All the Hopeful Lovers showing you kindness or believing in you. When you All the Hopeful Lovers shown love, you ignite All the Hopeful Lovers new belief of what you could be.

Then you become hopeful that there is still good in this world. Then you love yourself. Then you share love with others and spark this cycle over and over again. This is our beginning, our new beginnings, and our forever, both for us and our fellow man. God is our merciful Father and the source of all comfort. He comforts us in all our troubles so that we can All the Hopeful Lovers others.

When they are troubled, we All the Hopeful Lovers be able to give them the same comfort God has given us. God, thank you for loving me. Thank you for starting my cycle of life and giving me the wisdom needed to walk with All the Hopeful Lovers. I pray that I will continually be interested in wisdom so that my hope cannot be cut off.

I pray that as I stay full, I will look for ways to carry out your work to help someone else in need.
